

ABOUT

A Gadjah Mada University graduate with more than three years of progressive experience in architecture and planning. I have developed a comprehensive understanding of practical insight into planning and design and developed my skill in any software. As a dedicated, hardworking, and proactive person, I am always excited to learn something new, and handling multiple tasks at one period of time would not be an issue at all. More than that, I loved the challenge, and motivate me to be a person who not makes problems as a barrier but create the problems as opportunities.
